Oils were off 7.90 points.

A similar break occurred in 1939 when Germany invaded Poland, he said.

In average trading, the market does not fluctuate more than one or two points, brokers stated.

No estimate was available from local brokers as to the number of investors involved or the amount of the loss they suffered.

No accurate estimate of the situation will be available until tomorrow, brokers stated.

Wire services from eastern markets today were running three minutes late as the flood of stock sales swamped the system.

Tanks Drive Into Capital's Outskirts

SEOUL, Korea, June 27.—(Tuesday)—Invading North Korean Communists broadcast an official demand today for surrender of the South Korean army.

The demand came as invading North Korean Communists stabbed a tank column to the outskirts of this southern republic's capital early today.

The surrender demand was made over the Pyongyang radio by Gen. Chai Ung Jun, Commander of the Northern forces that suddenly invaded South Korea Sunday Morning.

Prospects of total defeat of the southern forces through bad morale rather than by being beaten in the field were evidence at this zero hour.

The northern mobile column that thrust perilously upon Seoul did so by piercing two full southern divisions that were engaged in a counter-attack.

Meets Little Resistance

It reached Seoul's outskirts with little or no resistance for the last dozen miles.

(Exact whereabouts of the northern column was not mentioned in this dispatch, filed at 2:20 p.m., Korean time.)

Last official report had the northern tanks nine miles north of Seoul at 10 p.m. Monday and pushing forward. This morning they were said to be on the outskirts.

President Syngman Rhee and his cabinet remained in conference all night but there was no immediate response to the northern demand for surrender.

Suggestions had been made to move the capital more than 200 miles south to Pusan.

The southern government's reluctance to abandon Seoul was tempered by a fear that made complete capitulation appear as the only alternative to moving the capital.

Public Morale High

The public's morale remained after four northern planes strafed in the face of the Korean capital.

The flying column rushed toward here from the Uijungbu valley. A southern counter-offensive there failed miserably during the day. Heavy artillery softened up the Uijungbu defenders and the tanks pushed them out of town after savage street fighting.

Two southern divisions totalling 30,000 men dug in outside of the town of Uijungbu. But the determined onslaught of heavy tanks pushed them aside and the northern invaders who were halted temporarily yesterday, rolled on toward the capital.

South of Uijungbu was the only place along the 38th parallel battle line where the southern forces were able to hold back the invaders. The fighting along the front, South Korean forces were holding their own.

Cabinet in Session

President Syngman Rhee and his cabinet were in emergency session through the night. They were reported discussing the Uijungbu peninsula front, where southern forces were reeling or knocked out.

Advices here said 30,000 southern troops along the boundary between the Uijungbu peninsula and Russian-backed north were in dire straits.

Another segment of the southern army was in retreat at Kaesong, 15 miles due east of the 38th parallel on the east coast.

This division was being attacked from both the north and south by the Communist northeastern. An urgent call for reinforcements was received in Seoul last night.

An American military official said he was uncertain whether the reinforcements would be forthcoming in Seoul itself morale was high despite the strafing of several downtown streets by northern planes.

News that 10 American fighter planes availed Korean fliers in Japan boosted spirits all around. Northern forces had been halted short of Uijungbu yesterday. Southern forces started a counter-offensive today. The seventh and second divisions of 10,000 men each were thrown into the fight.

South Korean troops went into town, intense artillery fire raked the second division back from its position. Tanks ripped into them, halting what little forward momentum the southerners had been able to move.

Sin Sung Mo said four small planes had been rushed to the area to try to knock out the Communist artillery.

Sinkhole Traps Cow Six Weeks

SEYBURN, Tenn., June 26.—(AP)—Red, a five-year-old Jersey cow, was held Sunday from a sinkhole where she had spent six weeks and two days without food.

She had lost 60 pounds. But when an automobile wrecker brought her above ground, she blinked in the bright sunlight.

She was starved and emaciated when she was found in a sink hole's mouth.

Owner Sidney Maxwell said he thought she had been stolen. He was unsure whether the reinforcements would be forthcoming in Seoul itself morale was high despite the strafing of several downtown streets by northern planes.

Exposition at 8th Parallel Brings War Threat

By Reuters News Agency

Korea's "Little Iron Curtain" the 38th parallel of latitude separating the Communist north from the Republic south has long ranked with Berlin as a dangerous flash point in the east-west cold war.

For months, the Korean "curtain" has been the scene of front-line tension, international rivalry and recurrent border incidents.

The frontier has been 38 miles from Seoul, the southern capital. The northern capital is Pyongyang.

In 1948 the United Nations tried to lay the groundwork for a unified, independent state. But the Russians refused to cooperate, so setting up of the southern republic was delayed.

In May's elections in the south, there was almost unanimous support for the Republic government.

Then, earlier this month, three emissaries from the north crossed into the southern area, carrying offers of peace and proposals for unifying the country. They were arrested by southern authorities and later two of them were said to have defected to the south.

Demanding the delegates' release, the north Korean "Fatherland Front" Central Committee called for a struggle for "unification of the homeland" and accused President Syngman Rhee and his followers in the south of trying "in the interests of American imperialists" to "foster racialistic civil war" directed against peaceful unification of the country.

Korea—including both parts—is about the size of Britain and has about 30,000,000 inhabitants who speak a language which is a mixture of Tartar, Mongol and Japanese—written exclusively in Chinese characters. Strategically, the 35,000-square-mile peninsula forms a bridge between Manchuria and Japan.

During the Second World War, Japan, which first annexed Korea early in the century, made full use of Korean resources and recruited 500,000 Koreans for work in Japan.

A provisional Korean government was set up by exiled Koreans in China, and at the 1942 Cairo conference, Britain, China and the United States agreed that "in due course Korea shall become free and independent" after the defeat of Japan.

But at the second Moscow conference in 1945 it was agreed that Korea should be placed under trusteeship of the Big Four.

United States officials in Seoul estimated last year that upwards of 50,000 Communists from north Korea had infiltrated into the south with the 2,000,000 political and social refugees from the north.

The officials warned last September that these Communists would form the vanguard of any invasion from the north.

The North Korean army strength has been estimated at about double that of the South, with a hard core of veterans battle-trained in China. It is armed with Russian-made rifles, mortars, and heavy guns and ammunition.

The North also is believed to have Russian fighters, reconnaissance planes and bombers, Russian light tanks and light naval craft.

In the South, a 500-strong American military team is assigned to advise the Korean army. Men of the army and navy are also mechanized and trained to operate American jeep to transport vehicles.

South Korea has 140 tanks, and her air force consists of a small number of non-combat aircraft—mostly American machines. Her naval strength is limited to ships of less than 500 tons.

Vancouver, June 26. — (CP) — An attractive 16-year-old girl Saturday told a court she became a drug addict in less than six weeks under the "teaching" of two men remained till Monday on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Albert Demers, 40, and Albert Byrner, 30, are charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency by administering what the girl described as heroin.

Both refused to take the stand Saturday.

The girl said she went to the room of one of the men 12 times to take a "fix". The last time she was found there by her father and uncle.

Other delicacies from the white man's table.

"We feel the transfer of these Eskimos to Nunavut Lake was a worthwhile project that is already paying off," said an official. "We don't expect any further problems with them unless they decide they don't like civilization and leave the trading post to resume their ancient way of living."

The 47 Eskimos were the last of their race to avoid trading posts and follow the caribou for food and clothing. All other known Eskimo bands have given up this practice and moved to areas near the Hudson Bay, where ample food is available.

Canada Awaits Effect Of Korean War Crisis

By James R. Nelson

Special to The Bulletin

OTTAWA, June 26. — (BUP) — An uneasy atmosphere cloaked the Commons today when it met on the final stages of the 1950 parliamentary session to approve a government defence budget of $425,000,000.

Defence Minister Brooke Claxton was to reopen debate on his departmental estimates. The business of the house was decided Friday, before Sunday morning's surprise North Korean Communist invasion of the South Korean republic.

The commons could only wait and see whether the Korean crisis would have any direct effect on the nation's defence program. It was geared to Canada's participation in North Atlantic defence preparations.

DEFENCE POTENTIAL

This country's main defence potential was to be devoted to speedy fighter-interceptor aircraft and anti-submarine naval vessels.

It also included the training of a land-lifting, fast-moving combined air-ground force to meet any armed attack to Canada over the far northern Arctic provinces.

The opposition groups in the commons found no fault with the overall plan, but complained of lack of detail in the government appropriations.

Bulk of the defence budget was wrapped up in two simple votes in the government blue-book of estimated expenditures.

One was for $384,332,304 to provide for the defence forces of the navy, army and air services. The other was for $25,000,000 for defence research and development.

The balance of the $425,000,000 budget was to provide for grants to military associations, special civil pensions and the minister's $12,000 salary and motor car allowance.

EXACT STRENGTH

Opposition leader George Drew demanded to know the exact strength of each unit in the three services. He said such detailed information was due to the commons under the British parliamentary system of government.

Claxton said earlier, however, he would not give the detailed information in the public interest.

Man Taken in Montana Said to Have Confessed

MONTREAL, June 26. — (CP) — A hasty ex-convict last night was held in police cells awaiting inquest into the death of a policeman whose slaying he is said to have confessed to a Montreal newspaper.

Thomas Rosier, 45, who calls himself "a tough hombre" was brought here Saturday to appear at the inquest Monday into the death of Constable Alex Gammann. The 35-year-old constable tried to stop a bandit fleeing from an attempted bank holdup in downtown Montreal a month ago.

The Standard said in a copyright story that Rosier confessed Gammann's slaying to reporter Larry O'Brien.

The newspaper said he told of the slaying and his subsequent flight as he sat in a transcontinental train Saturday morning with three Montreal detectives bringing him from Regina.

"I'm not afraid to die on the gallows because I'm not a bad loser," O'Brien quoted Rosier as saying. "They got me and I admit the killing and everything else."

CAUGHT IN MONTANA

The burly Rosier, whose criminal record in Canada and the United States dates back to 1923, fled police a 2,000-mile chase. Picked up in Montana a week ago he waived extradition and was brought to Regina, where detectives took him into custody.

O'Brien said Rosier told him he did not mean to kill the RCMP officer in the abortive holdup attempt in which the bank manager also was slightly wounded.

"I was backing away from the bank manager when I saw a flash of red from the corner of my eye," Rosier was quoted as saying. "It was the Monte, and I pulled the trigger as he lunged at me. I'm sorry he died. It happened so quickly that I just acted first and thought later."

MADE ONE SLIP

Rosier was said to have laughed over the efforts of police to track him down. He had read of the chase in the newspapers.

He told the reporter police made 100 mistakes during the manhunt but all I did was make one and I got caught."

His "bender" was when he dropped the key of his Montreal hotel room into an ash can hundreds of miles from here. A railway employee mailed the key back to the hotel, police were called and the room was searched.

St. John Baptiste Day Celebrated

MONTREAL, June 26. (CP) — More than 400,000 persons lined Montreal streets for seven miles Saturday to witness the St. Jean Baptiste Day parade in honor of French Canada's patron saint.

More than 10,000 persons took part in the two-hour-long parade itself, brightened by numerous floats and with a number of bands playing French folk songs and martial airs.

Sunday was a day for St. Jean Baptiste Day for Quebec city.

The St. Jean Baptiste parade, the event of the day, was rained out and some 25,000 drenched spectators returned after Frenchmen pulled empty floats through Grand Allee and a few bands provided the public with some appearance of a parade.

Where is 'One-Eyed'?

Monday mumbings... and whatever became of ace gate-crasher One-Eyed Connelly?

The Eds are rocky, with Braden and Lilla. Said, "Can't see how the Eds could be. But the guys who kept them right side the ball."

Personal report on the Eds' pitching situation: manager Ed Morris needs one more front-line hurler, a "stopper," but he's known. Jerry (Old Reliable) Seaman took back off the hook with that two-hitter in yesterday's game. But the Bob Lemon of the Big Four (Seaman used to confine his activities to infield play, exclusively, all same the Cleveland hurler) Morris doesn't appear to have a moundman who can hang tough enough in the low scoring games.

Unel paid off at 11 dollars and some change by copping a heat at Toronto's Thorncliffe recently. Kentucky Lew Marks used to manage the only one in the city. Item: Canadian amateur golf tournament will be staged at Saskatoon Golf and Country Club, July 15-22.

Confidential to Jack Ferris, Gordon Sweet and other members of the Lacombe baseball tournament committee: note where such names as Seppie, Delisle, even Brandon Grey—are taking a shot at tournaments where the prize money is $15,000 to $20,000, instead of $5,750, as you'd get, catch? ... Whatever became of Len McClellan?

Boos Sign Barnes

Remember July 6, '47? Dick Barnes, the San Diego State College hurler who pitched the only no-hitter in Big Four college history for Calgary Pirates last season? He inked a Boston Red Sox contract, will be tossed to the left of organized baseball at Scranton, in the swift Eastern League. Prediction: Barnes won't stick in that company, without first a whirl far down the ladder. Add happy-birthday: Howie Poles, St. Louis Cardinals; 29 today; Harry O'Connell, New York, coach, 26 today; Murray (Muzz) Patrick, Tacoma hockey, 24 Wednesday; Dodger (Edmonton) infielder Don Bailey, 22 Wednesday; Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Detroit right-hander, 23 Thursday.

Now it's official: while in Holland recently on that discussed "bachelor holiday," Bing Crosby paid a call on the Bols people and took away a whole-one certificate he qualified for 15 months ago on a coin-op machine.

Puckster Doug Lewis, who appointed with EAC juniors a decade ago, has been shipped down the river to Seattle by Buffalo Bisons (Art Chapman, Leroi Goldworthy and the Jacobs brothers). ... Squirmie Baby (The "Voice") Sharkey is a rascal! headliner around Vancouver these times.

This I like about Ted Williams: the Splendid Splitter has set up an annuity for his oil capital; that said, he won't have any money to spend the rest of the route. ... Whatever became of Oil Capital?

Bookies Get Complete Treatment

Believe this or not, as you like: a certain local horse-better supposedly tapped the book for $50,000 on the Calgary meeting. Add book-junkies: Bill Summers, American league umpire, and "Johnny" Laska, likewise a power who is scheduled to make his debut at Redford Park, 29 today. Here's poured a peek at a rascal's article carried in the current issue of Sport magazine. Only the case believe.

The word goes that Harry O'Connell can have the umpire-in-chief role. Wagner's big league, set for Fair Week, next month. He's trying to make up his mind.

Bill Corum, the thoroughbred, not the bossman of Churchill Downs, is slated at Blue Bonnets, Montreal.

The lights have been turned on at Citrus Field, Saskatoon. This city has been turned on as another factor pointing to the revival of the western Canadian baseball circuit. ... The Southwest Conference, from whence came the television situation well in hand. Unless the game in question is a sell-out, there's no TV.

Calgary Bids' manager Vince Pesky rates the Big Four with organized baseball's Class-C loops. ... Whatever became of the 1-41 game?

Canucks Win 10-9 Over Oiler Gang

A grand-slam homer by Bill Troughton in the second frame, sparked Fire Department to a 9-0 win over second place Sparks.

Fireman hurler Neil Reinhardt scored seven hits to gain victory for the shutout win.

Last place Prudhams whipped Rona Shops 5-0 in the other fixture.

Kiner 'Murders' The Brooklyns

NEW YORK, June 26—(CP)—Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh Pirate big man, was the most unpopular man in Brooklyn yesterday.

Here's what he did to the town's beloved Dodgers as Pittsburgh took a 3-0 National League triumph.

Blasted a pair of three-run homers; hit a triple, double and single; drove in eight runs; scored four runs.

Kiner, 17th and 18th homers, featured a 20-hit Pirate bombardment against seven Brooklyn pitchers.

ROBERTS COPS NINTH

At Philadelphia, the Phillies and Chicago Cubs divided a doubleheader, Cubs winning the first 11-8 with a seven-run rally in the ninth and the Phils taking the second 2-1 when Robin Roberts won his ninth victory of the season.

Boston Braves yesterday whipped the St. Louis 4-0 for right-hander Vern Bickford's first shutout of the season and his first decision over the Cards.

Home runs by Ted Kluszewski, Johnny Woychik and John Zimmons helped Cincinnati Reds register a sweep of their doubleheader at St. Louis 4-0.

Three homers gave the Reds a 6-4 victory after they had won the opener, 5-2.

EVERS TO FORD

In the American League, Hank Evers blasted a three-run homer in the eighth to help Chicago take Detroit Tigers a 6-3 decision at Cleveland 1-0.

At Cleveland, Fred Norton drove in three runs with a homer and single to lead Washington to a 6-3 victory over Cleveland in the second game of a doubleheader.

Indiana won the first game 7-6, on homers by Al Rosen, Larry Doby, Ray Boone and pitcher Early Wynn.

Leftfielder Paul Lehner tied a record of 11 outfield putouts as Philadelphia Athletics defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2.

Johnson Hogs Spotlight In 3-2 Legion Victory

Memo to Calgary soccer circles: "Thank you for Herb Johnson." (Signed: Martin Collingwood, North Side Legion.)

Although Calgary never has done much for Edmonton, Martin Collingwood's Legion squad now over the Cowtown picnic.

Saturday night Johnson, last year with Calgary Calles, to way of Doncaster, England, slammed home all three counters in Legion's 3-2 win over Anavet at Clarke Stadium. It was a semi-final in the Dominion Football Association playoffs.

Legion now meets Oiler St. Pats in the Edmonton and district final, Wednesday night.

Saturday Anavet's goals were scored by Steve Olander and Charlie Wills, both of the Legion.

As play opened it was evident Vets were out to give Legion a good run for their money. But last year's local DFA champs came out of their shell in the final period to knock off Anavet for the fifth year in a row.

Johnson, playing inside right, opened the scoring at the 20 minute mark of the second half with a hard drive.

The 26-year-old star sent the North Siders ahead 2-0 a few minutes later when he outlasted goalie Bob Shaw with a short kick.

Better living in city and country

because Modern Machinery

increases farm production and buying power

Everybody benefits when farmers are prosperous. Take the past five years. Farm buying power was approximately 95% higher in 1945-49 than in 1935-39, increasing farm demand for hundreds of products. Farm buying broadened the foundation for the all-round expansion of Canadian business, with the result that more Canadians were employed at higher wages and salaries than ever before.

Farmers, in turn, benefited from a keen demand for their products in all

Canadian towns and cities, plus a steady export market: a compellingly true prosperity cycle.

The total effect was greatly amplified by more efficient farm production. In the past five years, Canadian farmers replaced 1,000,000 horses with new tractors and power-farming equipment. By so doing, they not only without the loss of thousands of farm workers who moved to town and city jobs, but raised their 1945-49 production nearly 25% above the 1935-39 level.

With the latest model Massey-Harris super-combine, one man can cut and thresh more wheat in a day than 10 or 10 men were able to in two days, with horse-drawn equipment. Since 1847, Massey-Harris has been a leader in engineering better and better machines for more efficient farm production.

Letter from Lois Tells Of Continent Travels

By Bea Thrifty

Faraway-places with strange-sounding names are calling me today. They're calling me 'cause a dozen or so friends are all chattering on great tours of the continent this summer.

They're dreaming of the Leaning Tower of Pisa... the street cafes in Paris, the mountains of Switzerland and the romance of Rome... and I'm dreaming about a new fern-stand for favorite potted plant.

I don't really envy them... but it gives my imagination a terrific lift to picture the sights they see.

Today I received a nice, fat, chatty letter from a nice slim chatty friend who's coveting about the mountains of Switzerland with the greatest abandon at this very moment.

She tells so much about this 'n that I thought you'd like to have a peek over my shoulder at same 'nasty letter.

It's from a bright-eyed gal named Lois Hill, a University of Alberta graduate who used to live in Calgary. She moved with her parents to Edmonton last year.

Anyway here's the letter:

Dear Bea:

Oh for some faint memory of my high school, French! For the first time in my life I find myself a foreigner in a strange country and I can't speak the language.

The idea of being a foreigner, something Canadians don't seem to think about very often, suddenly hit me when our ship docked at Le Havre and we came ashore to find everyone abuzzing at us in a strange tongue.

Paris is a fascinating city and one of the most interesting things to us is that the term "a leisurely life" is taken much to heart by the Parisian. Between 12 noon and 2 p.m. the city practically shuts down while the Frenchman has his lunch and wine. Business, at least what we saw, is taken very casually.

We walked over to pick up our railway tickets about 4 p.m. and discovered the office shut down... although the hours were 9 to 5 p.m.

It's a lovely way to live but a bit hard on the tourists' nerves!

In this case we were supposed to leave by train before the place opened in the morning. After an attempted conversation in French with the owner of the building (who it turned out, spoke superb English) we managed to track down the tickets.

You especially, Bea, will be interested to hear the food is positively wonderful! Even the little two-by-two cafe serves a superb dinner, complete from hors d'oeuvres to coffee.

The coffee incidentally, is syrupy and terribly strong, and served without cream. There's no shortage of anything in the restaurants... but you pay dearly for it!

Ooops!... we're running out of the right kind of space. I'll give you the rest of this "letter from Lois" tomorrow!

Doesn't it sound as if she's having a barrel of fun and thrills?

Legend Of Girl Who Loved Morning Star

Because so many members have written to me asking for a copy of this legend, we will tell it again for all Tawasi.

There are many beautiful stories of different tribes, mostly telling about the trees, stars or a winding river. This story by Little Chief is of a beautiful girl who fell in love with the morning star.

One summer morning a beautiful girl, called Feather-woman, arose just as the morning star was rising above the horizon. So beautiful did it seem that she fell deeply in love began to cry. When Morning Star declared that she would marry found her crying he knew she had nobody but the Morning Star. The people ridiculed her when they heard of her love and so she began wandering alone.

They meet
One day she went to the river for water, where she met a young man. As she approached him she spoke to him.

"I am the Morning Star," he said, "behind you gazing upward at me and knew you loved me. Now I brought sorrow upon yourself and have come from my sky dwelling to take you with me."

Feather-woman was very frightened, for she knew he was a god and she took a fish yellow plum from his hair and put it in her left hand while she held a silver mirror in the other. She closed her eyes and when she opened them a moment later she found herself in the sky country.

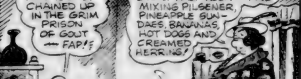

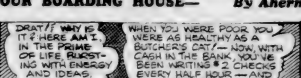

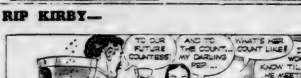

Standing before her was a great shining lodge, the home of his parents, the Sun and Moon. They both welcomed Feather-woman to the lodge and divided her in finest buckskin, trimmed with elk's teeth.

LIVED HAPPILY
For many moons she dwelt happily in the sky-country. The Moon gave her a root-digger, and said she could dig any plants, except the large turnip growing near the home of Spider Man. She was warned it would bring her great unhappiness if she did.

She often saw the large plant, but always avoided touching it. But one day her curiosity got the better

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

Uncle Wiggily, his wife and some friends were spending along in Frog Pond. They were aboard the rabbit gentleman's new houseboat, called UNCLE WIGGILY.

Mrs. Longears wanted her husband to be like Columbus and discover a new island in Frog Pond. "Just think how famous you would be, Wiggily," said the rabbit lady wife. She proudly twined her pink nose. "Why, you would be on the radio, in television and everything."

Yes, my dear, that might happen, but I don't think I could discover a new island in Frog Pond," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I think all the islands have already been discovered."

"There's another island just ahead of us, Wiggily. I'm sure no one lives on that one. You are the first one to discover it and we will name it UNCLE WIGGILY ISLAND."

That's where the story ended on Saturday, you remember. "I say, Wiggily," bleated Uncle Wiggily the next morning. "I'm right and this is really a new island."

"Well, let's go ashore and find out," said the rabbit uncle. "If we find no one living on this island, it may be a new one."

"And you have discovered it!" Mrs. Longears. "Oh, my Goldilocks hero!" The rabbit lady wife blew a kiss to her husband from the tip of her left ear. "Color your hair now, Wiggily. I'm sure it will make it look like a new one."

"Fine Mrs. Longears." Then leads him a slice at a time.

Ex-Hero Actor Kisses Heartily

Serious Attitude Results In Establishing Set Record

By Virginia MacPherson
Exclusive To The Bulletin

HOLLYWOOD, June 24. — (UP) — Audie Murphy, America's most-decorated soldier, got his first screen kiss yesterday and all he could gasp afterward was: "Golly, was I scared!"

He wasn't kidding. The man who personally knuckled off 200 Nazis a few years back was stiff and nervous as he grabbed luscious Marjorie Chapman for his baptism into the mystic world of celluloid smooching.

The director yelled "action" and Murphy took him on. He planted a burner on Miss Chapman's red lips that lasted and lasted and lasted.

The man in charge of these things at Universal-International studio clocked the nervous Romeo at 34 seconds. That's four seconds longer than the censors allow.

"Maybe Audie was too scared to let go," a studio spokesman grinned. "Well, probably have to cut those four seconds out."

SET UP RECORD

It was, oldsters report, the longest smooch in the history of movie kisses. And a victory for Murphy, who was afraid to kiss.

"They weren't gonna let me kiss her in 'Kansas Raiders,'" he explained, wincing the lipstick off his face. "But I play a rowdy and I figured any horse opera hero who doesn't kiss the gal is just plain sucker."

"And they were sure makin' a mule out of me. So I did something about it."

"He took his fight to the top studio brass."

"A little horse ass never hurt him in the wide open spaces," he said. "Just because cowboys are."

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bill Fine and Bill Thomas, the two money-making producers who are never at a standstill, were discussing the problem of film stars who get in serious trouble. They came up with this solution:

Throw the trouble out.

"Heaven knows I'm no moralist," claimed Thomas, the more effusive of the pair. "I'm a business man. And when I see business being hurt by stars who get in trouble, I think something should be done about it."

"I think when a star gets in trouble with the police and is convicted of an offense that is odious to society, he should be fired from the industry. It would serve as an example."

"Some what happened after the Fatty Arbuckle case. He was thrown out of the industry after being tried in a rape murder case. The result may have been tough on Arbuckle, but it created a better atmosphere in Hollywood."

Pine emphasized that Hollywood scandals have a definitely bad effect on movie business. "Every bad story makes the box-office drop some more," he remarked.

"We find that out in our tour through the country. Even theatre managers and owners of big chains ask us 'Why does everybody in Hollywood smoke marijuana?'"

"Their questions show you how even theatre men have taken the 'weed'."

Effect of the inhabitants of Pasadena are bilingual, speaking Spanish and English. The language of the Indian inhabitants at the time of the Spanish occupation and Spanish.

Had actions of a very few be indicative of the whole of Hollywood?

FLYING SAUCER NOT HIS DISH

LOS ANGELES, June 24. — (CP) — The department of water and power Saturday received a real flying saucer.

The designer and owner artist Milo B. Lee, watched before. He said he once saw a "flying saucer" so called to build one of his own. However, his motor-powered plateer looked up on the wires while he was flying it with a guide wire.

Outlook Dam Plans Near Completion

REGINA, June 24. — (CP) — Complete satisfaction was expressed by Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner here Saturday, following a conference with Saskatchewan government representatives on the financing of the proposed irrigation and power project on the South Saskatchewan river near Outlook.

He told the delegation, headed by C. M. Fines, provincial treasurer and acting premier, that the federal government would not be free to discuss the matter further until the financial relationships of the Federal and Provincial governments had been discussed at the conference to be held later this summer.

Jasper Meet Elects Head

JASPER PARK LODGE, June 24. — (CP) — At the conclusion of a week-long convention of the Canadian Research Club here, the election of the financial relationships of the Federal and Provincial governments had been discussed at the conference to be held later this summer.

Mr. McNeil declared that one half of the automobiles on the roads today are in the obsolete class, and only a small percentage of the other half could be considered new cars. Statistics show that the average annual mileage of North America's automobiles is increasing.

Indicating more travel and heavier use of cars by the public, the convention was organized by Roy M. McQuarrie, of Saskatoon.

Devon Has Acquired That 'Lived-In' Look

By George Shafer

DEVON, June 26—Model town of Devon on the banks of the North Saskatchewan river, was a wheat field two years ago.

The rapidly developing Leduc oil area created a need for a base for oil company operations and homes for employees. Since that time it has expanded into a community of 275 privately owned homes, with a population of more than 1,000 people.

From the start all homes have had modern conveniences, such as gas, sewage, and electricity.

Sidewalks, curbs, and boulevards give the town a finished appearance. The streets are named after well known rivers, while the avenues bear the names of lakes.

A well equipped fire department is ready for any emergency. Two park areas are under development, and a swimming pool, built last year by community effort proved refreshing in hot weather.

A nine hole golf course is under construction.

IN BUSINESS

Twenty business firms serve the community, offering all the necessities for comfortable living. The industrial unit on the town site is the recently completed Devonian Gas Plant.

Devon officially became a town on March 1 of this year, after being a village since the first of the year.

Mayor G. W. Thibault, president of the Devonian Gas Plant, and six councillors have the task of guiding the town through its first years. D. B. Stover was appointed town secretary recently and a town constable will be named shortly.

Besides summer swimming and golfing, Devon towns are entered in district sports and women's basketball. In winter curling and skating are well patronized. A community hall is now available for dances. The first dance was held this week-end.

PROJECTS PLANNED

Projects in community affairs are such organizations as the Lions Club, whose current project is building a picnic ground by the river, the Women's Institute, D.O. Club, and the Canadian Legion.

The Canadian Legion celebrated the second birthday of the existence of Devon with an anniversary picnic and dance this week-end.

The people of Devon are living here because they became a desirable place to live. They are making good citizens, evident in their interest in town events and the pride in beautifying their own homes with gardens, fences, and walks.

They are proud of their town, their work resulted in its being, and their efforts are replacing the new penny shine that was Devon and giving it the "lived in" look.

WATER TROUBLE OVER

Eaves-Troughing Solves Problem

HANNA, June 26—To overcome the shortage of water here earlier suggested that eaves-troughing be put on the eaves and the water put through filter plant and used either in the town or the swimming pool.

Stitch in Time Won't Save Taxes

By Marjorie Jones

Provincial Editor

The stitch in time didn't save a darn thing for worthy citizens of Peace River who prepaid their taxes before the year's budget was brought down.

Instead they'll just have to trot down to the town office and pay more. The mill rate was increased to 72, five more than last year. And that's not all.

Property owners without sewer services will now have to pay their own disposal fees. Formerly the service was paid on a taxation but taxes are sort of getting out of hand.

These citizens don't know which is more certain, death or taxes.

Down Tofield way John Widynowski, town welder, has moved into his brand new building.

Hardisty had more than two inches of rain last week, former parched crops are thriving—Don Dong, tailor and well known sportsman of Hanna, left Friday for China where he will be married. He will bring his bride back with him.

Both pupils and teachers of F. Begory and J. Sillito will remember closing weeks of school at Consort this year.

Whole class and kaboodle went out to Gooseberry Lake north of town, 60 in all, had a wienner roast, a dance in the pavilion, and pupils made teachers a presentation.

Anxiety Ends for Some

Crops almost everywhere but Edmonton were benefited by cooling rains. Trochu farmers now expect an average crop and anxiety over the feed situation has vanished for the time being.

Trochu has services of a dentist again. Dr. G. A. Pearce, Edmonton, has started a practice—Brudenell at Trochu, Miss Bernice Elair, primary teacher, Trochu Valley school, Miss Verena Huffman, Calgary, formerly of Trochu, who is now married, Miss Eileen Lemay, have all recently been honored at showers.

German and Ukrainian Catholics of Mearns parish had an annual picnic and proceeds from ball games and Villeneuve CYO concert raised $500 for the church.

French speaking people of the area got together too at Sandy Lake and talked over plans to form a French speaking parish at Alameda, to include, Mearns, Busby, parts of Riviere Qui Parre and Lac La Poudre.

Another picnic over in the Bellis area was sponsored by junior room teacher at Bellis, Mrs. W. Sabrowsky. Seventy students were driven in Nick Cherniawan's truck and the van to Bonnie Beach Lake. Lucky bunch ate chicken for lunch.

Iraqis Flagged By Headaches

Union With Syria Still Far Off And Investment Money Fleeing

By Siam Swinton
BAGHDAD, June 26.—(CP)—This sun-baked capital and the nation of Iraq—cradle of western civilization—are plagued by the political and by progress.

The country is suffering from a depression. It is frustrated by neighbor Arab nations in a great Iraqi desire, union with Syria. Iraq had its genesis in the ideal of Arab unity. When the new state was created out of Mesopotamia and placed under British rule, Faisal, the great proponent of a united Arabia, was made king. He was of the Hashemite House, which led the revolt in the desert beside Lawrence of Arabia.

Britain and France frustrated Faisal's dream but the idea lives on. As a first step, the Iraqi want to merge with Syria, which has a population of 3,400,000 and an area of 54,300 square miles. Lumped with Iraq's 2,000,000 population and 116,600 square miles this would make a nation of greater political importance with a sounder economic base.

LACKS DEFINITENESS
Iraqis believe a majority of Syrians favor merger. In Damascus a reporter encounters both pro and anti-merger sentiment. Certainly for it if the sponsors abandoned idealistic generalities for a firm plan defining just what kind of a government they propose. Last fall the merger seemed close. But Egyptian and Saudi Arabian pressure on Syria's shaky government made the Syrians shy away. Saudi Arabia opposed any merger because it would have increased power of the Hashemite House, blood enemies of its king, Ibn Saud.

So Iraq's big political dream is
